The Caramol story starts at the jet set beaches of Saint Tropez. Invented by the local Cabana boys to cater to the specific needs of their jet set guests; something indulgent with impeccable taste, but also an epic drink to get the party started. Crafted from the purest vodka and the finest caramel we present you; Caramol.

Why Caramol?

Because of the taste.... But most of all because it gets the discussion started.

Every bottle of Caramol is filled with liquid gold.
Every empty bottle is filled with stories.

LINDORES ABBEY DISTILLERY AQUA VITAE

Aqua Vitae, an award winning handcrafted botanical spirit, is made at Lindores Abbey Distillery using spices, dried fruit and locally grown green herbs such as Douglas fir and sweet cicely.

With citrus notes and full of sweet and spiced flavours, Aqua Vitae is delicious as a mixed drink or a cocktail base.

The earliest Aqua Vitae was made at Lindores as long ago as 1494, and the recipe has been authentically recreated and reimagined as an inquisitively versatile spirit.

Today, Aqua Vitae is distilled in pot stills and then infused with a blend of spices and herbs, including cleavers, and sweet cicely, which grow in the gardens, amidst the grounds of the ancient Abbey.

It is entirely natural, with no added sugars.

GIN 1689 AUTHENTIC DUTCH DRY GIN

In 1689, the Dutch King William III - better known as William of Orange — was proclaimed King of England, Ireland and Scotland.

The traditional Dutch drink Genever or Gin, then became hugely popular.

More than 3 centuries later, the original Gin recipe XXXIII of 'The distiller of London' was found buried deep in a dark corner of the Royal British Library's rare book section.

The result is Gin 1689 - a gin that fuses English and Dutch culture together, produced by one of Holland's oldest distillers and based on that same 350 year old recipe.

Gin1689 beautifully combines juniper with dried quince and pippin (apple), lemon and orange peel, nutmeg, aniseed and clove.

Diplôme DRY GIN ORIGINAL 1945 RECIPE

The ORIGINAL 1945 RECIPE was perfected during WW2 and remains unchanged.

Diplôme Dry Gin is a unique French “London Dry Gin”.

Created, and distilled in Dijon, a city known and respected world-wide for its cuisine, the recipe for Diplôme is one of the oldest in France.

After the end of the war, Diplôme Dry Gin became the official gin for the American Army stationed throughout Europe.

The nose of Diplôme Dry Gin is a marvellous bouquet of blossoming cherry trees, cloves and the delicate expression of juniper and coriander seeds. Each sip reveals an even greater complex and perfumed taste layered with zesty grapefruit, delicate nutty oils and a delightful infusion of lavender.

Its velvety structure is enlivened with rich exotic spices, dark chocolate and leads the way to a great earthy and lengthy finish.

Isle of Bute Hand Crafted Small Batch Oyster Gin

The world's first Oyster Gin is not like anything you will have tasted before... but we know you will find the unique flavours a real treat.

Distilled using oysters fresh from the Scottish Argyll Coast, they infuse a delicate maritime essence which when blended with a mix of citrus and other botanicals, creates a unique savoury gin.
Perfect for using in cocktails.

Perfect Pour: As a subtle twist on the classic dry Martini, take 50ml of Isle of Bute Oyster Gin, add 15ml of Vermouth, shake over ice, then serve with a twist of lemon.

Or serve with a slice of cucumber and a touch of cracked black pepper as a more classic style gin and tonic.

The waters of the west coast of Scotland are famous for their oysters. These oysters are sourced from the beautiful Loch Fyne, a sea loch that extends 65 miles inland from the Sound of Bute.

the Alpine Vodka

The key components of edelweiss - the Alpine Vodka are deeply rooted in the very heart of Alpine nature: Aside from the great distillate derived from rye and spelt, it is the pristine spring water from the Austrian Alps that makes significant contributions to its high quality.

So do decades of expertise, extraordinary passion and a special filtration process. Thanks to these, even the finest nuances of flavour are maintained throughout the whole process of crafting, resulting in an exceptional experience of taste.

Each and every bottle is embellished with the iconic symbol of the Alps: An edelweiss flower, embroidered from cotton in Austria, is applied individually and by hand.

OYESTER44 Maritime Vodka

Who wants the boring, the bland, the predictable? One of those typical vodkas that have been distilled and filtered so many times that any trace of taste has been lost?

This is a vodka for people who appreciate all-natural ingredients, craftsmanship and, above anything else, provenance. Or, in other words, how the 'terroir' of a region defines the taste of its food and drink.

Especially, in this case, the ocean.

Created in Zeeland, the Netherlands's westernmost and least populous province – of which over 1,000 sq. km is seawater – OYESTER44 wholeheartedly embraces and celebrates its terroir.

The 'YE' in OYESTER44 stands for the small village of Yerseke in Zeeland – where the local fishing boats carry these letters for identification.

The world-famous Imperial oysters used in its production have been cultivated off Yerseke's shores since 1906.

BURNING BARN SPICED RUM

You're going to get a massive hit of toasted coconut, vanilla and molasses. It's going to feel smooth, rounded, full of aromatic allspice and a spike of chilli on your tongue, followed by a long, warming ginger finish.

Why?

Because we use only the finest whole spices - and no artificial additives or flavourings - to make a uniquely grown-up spiced rum. We roast our mix of whole spices - vanilla, coconut, chilli, ginger and allspice - in three-meter wide, heavy copper pans that are traditionally used for toffee making. Once it's ready, we infuse the aromatic mix directly into our special blend of rums, before reducing to bottling strength.

First, you'll notice its intense smokiness. Then, you're going to get hints of apple, molasses and burnt treacle.

The nose is punchy, but it is beguilingly smooth, leaving a light, luscious coating on your mouth.

Why?

Because it's the UK's first and only hand-crafted smoked rum. We harvest, chip and season locally-grown apple wood then smoke it in our old apple juice tank - stainless steel with a bespoke oak lid. Then, we cold smoke our rum blend before reducing it to bottling strength.

GOYA SINGLE ESTATE TEQUILA

"Goya Tequila is our interpretation of how tequila would have been made from the very beginning if it was first invented by a Michelin Starred Chef "

This is a Single Estate Tequila meaning we use agave exclusively from our farm. We use fully ripe 8-9 year-old piñas that are grown and harvested using natural organic methods. Being a Blanco it is not treated in wood barrels to hide unwanted flavours.

The farming, harvesting, production and bottling is all done at our farm, so we have full control over the quality of the product. The attention we give each of our small vintages requires one of the slowest production processes in Mexico. The flavour is minimal mineral and has gentle hints of slow roasted pines mixed with citrus tree. A well-crafted silky texture with a smooth feel.

The tequila itself controls the process; we simply listen to it. This process is rare and unrushed. We say it takes about 9 days to produce 1 litre of Goya Tequila, but we never really know. The time it takes to produce each vintage should not be determined by us.

Palate: An impression of silk with a natural and gentle flavour of slow roasted pines.

Serve: Slightly chilled at the same temperature as red wine. Around 14 - 16 °C .

Colour: Crystal Clear

HAMMERLE WILLIAMS EDELBRAND

Making good fruit brandies is a solid craft; Capturing the finest fragrance and taste nuances of a fruit in the distillate is an art. "

All of our fine brandies are distilled only from the most valuable raw materials. The processing and the careful separation of pre- and post-flow components also mean that only a manageable yield is achieved - in other words, we need a lot of valuable fruit for a small amount of brandy (see below: average use of fruit types per 0.5l of brandy) .

A brandy is defined as a product whose entire alcohol is obtained exclusively through the fermentation of fruits. The corresponding alcohol strength, which according to the definition of an Austrian quality brandy has to be at least 38%, is adjusted after the distillation with pure spring water. Under no circumstances may artificial flavors, sugar or other additives be added.
